called anxiety disorders, it is no wonder that “anxiety” has become one of the most frequently used words in medical (and popular) discourse. But it was not always so; almost unimaginable to us now, there was once an English-speaking world without “anxiety”—or at least without our psychological concept of it.

Scores on anxiety were measured using the Generalised Anxiety Disorder assessment (range of scores: 0–21) and scores on depressive symptoms were measured using the Patient Health Questionnaire (range of scores: 0–27). On March 23, the first lockdown commenced in England. On May 10, it was announced that strict lowdown was being eased.
