Atonement (a novel by Ian McEwan) Summary | Atonement by Ian McEwan |Atonement Ian Mcewan

Atonement is a 2001 British metafiction novel written by Ian McEwan. Set in three time periods, 1935 England, Second World War England and France, and present-day England, it covers an upper-class girl's half-innocent mistake that ruins lives, her adulthood in the shadow of that mistake, and a reflection on the nature of writing.

Atonement (novel) - Wikipedia

Ian McEwan is one of the greatest novelists writing today but this book, published in 2001, is a big disappointment in my view. It sounds interesting - the tale of how a 13-year old girl from an upper middle class family ruins the life of two other people one day and then has to live with her demons. There are several glimpses of Ian McEwan's huge talent - particularly his ability to focus in ...

McEwan is, in other words, a thoroughly traditional original. Atonement does not feel, at first, like a book by McEwan. The opening is almost perversely ungripping. Instead of the expected...

Review: Atonement by Ian McEwan - the Guardian

Atonement Summary "Atonement" is a book written in three major parts, with a final denouement from the author. Part One tells the story of one day/night in 1935 at the Tallis family estate north of London, England. It focuses on Briony Tallis, the thirteen-year-old youngest daughter of three, who aspires to be a writer.
