For the Rambam, the blood on the doorposts is a test of faith for the Jews in Egypt. By giving Am Yisrael the ritual of the Pesach lamb, God has entered the picture and has presented them with an ultimatum. This is how it works.

~~Pesach — Blood on the Doorposts~~

In our Torah for this week (parashat Bo), we saw how the Israelites were commanded to slaughter the Passover and daub its blood on the two sides and top of the doorway of their houses (Exod. 12:7). The LORD would then see the blood and "pass over" their dwellings during the plague of the death of the firstborn.

On Passover, the 14th day of the 1st month, the lamb's blood was put on the doorpost and the lintel of the home. The lamb- the innocent lamb- died as a substitute sacrifice so the first born would not die. The innocent lamb died instead of the firstborn. The lamb's blood was applied so death would "pass over".

The blood that was placed on the lintle (the door post) was a sign so that when the angel of death passed over the home, the inhabitants were safe- particularly the first born son. Those that did not believe the instructions God gave to Moses and did not feel it was necessary to obey them, all lost the first born in death.

Putting blood on the doorposts and lintel gave these places the status of an altar, because of the great risk the Israelites took in sacrificing the Pascal lamb. Recall that the Egyptians worshipped the lamb as a deity, and in displaying the lamb's blood for all to see, the Israelites were attesting that they had abandoned their former beliefs, practiced in Egypt, and were prepared to risk their lives to do so.

On the evening of the Israelites' deliverance from slavery in Egypt, they slaughter the lamb, roast and eat it. The lambs' blood is placed on the doorposts of their houses as a sign that Israelites live in those homes. The name Passover comes from this offering. When God kills the Egyptian firstborn, He passes over the homes whose doors are smeared with blood.

Also, putting the blood on the doorposts was a mark of faith that apparently was not limited to Israelites, but anyone who placed his or her faith in God. The text says that many others left Egypt with the Israelites (Ex. 12:38) – perhaps they too had claimed this God by marking their homes.

~~Blood on the Doorposts — En Gedi Resource Center~~

Moses commanded the children of Israel to mark their homes with the blood of the Passover lambs. They were to dip hyssop into the blood and smear it on their doorposts. Although Passover was thereafter celebrated annually, the Israelite homes were never again smeared with blood from the Passover lambs.

Salvation in Christ should bring liberty to God's people. Yet many suffer needlessly because they don't understand what the Bible teaches about achieving victorious living. In this advanced course in spiritual warfare you will learn to help others rise above: fear and guilt, occult and witchcraft connections, drug abuse, cults, anger and resentment, unforgiveness and depression. Bill Schnoebelen has counseled thousands of Christians towards victory - Christians who, despite the best intentions of clergy and friends, were unable to obtain the liberty they so desperately needed. Pastors, couples, singles and teens have found the Liberating Power of Jesus Christ after years of heartache and misery... YOU CAN TOO!

The Passover was one of the greatest events that took place in the history of Israel. The angel of death passed over the homes of the Israelites and wreaked havoc in the homes of the Egyptians. Israel came under divine covering because of the blood on their doorposts. Today as many as will come under the covering of the Blood of Jesus will escape the onslaught of the angel of death. This book will guide you on the kind of life you should live to remain under the covering of the blood of Jesus.
