They'll Bring Him To His Knees. Aiden Taylor-Chapman had it all until he threw his life away on drugs and crime. Now he's being targeted by a mob boss who wants him dead, and he's been captured by two military grade bodyguards who are holding him on the orders of Mason Malone - a man who was once his best friend, but is now keeping his sister prisoner. If only Steven and Robert would let him go, he might have a chance of putting things right, but the two ex-Marines are more than a match for him. They demand obedience and submission, two things Aiden has never been able to give anybody. It's a battle of wills he loses every time as they subject him to their unique brand of military discipline. It's bad enough that they won't give him the fix he craves. Worse still, he's falling for them both.

The Training House Collection by Kitty Thomas is 3 full-length books in one bundle. Publisher's Note: These books are stand alone titles and not part of a series. (Although Guilty Pleasures and Broken Dolls occur in the same world, one is not a direct sequel of the other. Tender Mercies occurs in a totally different world, but is thematically similar to Broken Dolls.) This bundle contains: Tender Mercies, Guilty Pleasures, and Broken Dolls Tender Mercies: "Grace. That word that finally meant something again. Mercy. Favor. Good will." Fed up with play, Grace Warner moves to an island to be with a man she met online. Within hours of her arrival, everything is ripped from her, and she quickly learns play is preferable to the realities of actual enslavement. Asher Collins has spent the past year mourning and blaming himself for the death of his slave, Darcy. When Grace catches his eye at a showing, obviously abused, he becomes obsessed with buying her and finding a way to atone for his own past sins.
Guilty Pleasures: Vivian Delaney leads a life of privilege, but behind closed doors she feels isolated and trapped in a gilded cage. Unable to achieve pleasure with her husband, she finds herself in the capable hands of Anton, a massage therapist intent on awakening her to her full potential. By any means necessary.
Broken Dolls: Mina Calloway always finds herself in the hands of the wrong master: Gentle at first, then brutally sadistic and abusive. She no longer believes it's possible to find a man who will be gentle with her. After seeing a therapist for months, the doctor makes her an offer she isn't yet smart enough to refuse: "Let me find you a good master." Brian Sloan is a borderline sociopath with a dark and brutal past. Only taking his sadistic urges out on the women at a submissive training house allows him to sleep through the night. When Brian sees Mina, she should be ripe for the picking, but her damage is too similar to his own. Can he fight past his demons to protect the one person he considers worth saving? "Too many survivors of Canada's Indian residential schools live to forget. Theodore Fontaine writes to remember." – Hana Gartner, CBC's The Fifth Estate Bestselling Memoir, McNally Robinson Booksellers Approved curriculum resource for grade 9–12 students in British Columbia and Manitoba. Theodore Niizhotay Fontaine lost his family and freedom just after his seventh birthday, when his parents were forced to leave him at an Indian residential school by order of the Roman Catholic Church and the Government of Canada. Twelve years later, he left school frozen at the emotional age of seven. He was confused, angry and conflicted, on a path of self-destruction. At age 29, he emerged from this blackness. By age 32, he had graduated from the Civil Engineering Program at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology and begun a journey of self-exploration and healing. In this powerful and poignant memoir, Ted examines the impact of his psychological, emotional and sexual abuse, the loss of his language and culture, and, most important, the loss of his family and community. He goes beyond details of the abuses of Indigenous children to relate a unique understanding of why most residential school survivors have post-traumatic stress disorders and why succeeding generations of First Nations children suffer from this dark chapter in history. Told as remembrances described with insights that have evolved through his healing, his story resonates with his resolve to help himself and other residential school survivors and to share his enduring belief that one can pick up the shattered pieces and use them for good.

My name is Pet. My story is going to break your heart. The first thing you should know about me, is that I'm a good girl. I follow directions. I bend at the waist. I do anything and everything my King tells me to. But King is demanding. King is dangerous. He wants to hurt me. And there is only one person who can help me run away from King... Except I don't know if I want to leave him. I don't know if I can. Good pets always obey their master... But what if I want to have two? PET is a standalone 95,000 word novel. This is a DARK romance!

What if you were in love not just with one, not just with two, but with three hot guys? And what if they wanted you back? There are three of them. Three boys. We're friends. Neighbors. Our lives are linked through disaster, fear and pain. I love them all. Not sure I can live without them. Can we just stay friends? Can we ignore the desire flaring when we're around each other? Can I kiss one and not the other? I can't choose. Don't want to choose. And I'm not sure they can, either. This story will either end up in heartache, or as any story should: in a happy ending. Love is not a road. It's a country. A sprawling galaxy. Love has no compass. No rules. No limits. Love is a universe. Lose yourself in it.

Cassandra Whitman seems like a normal girl on the outside. Sure she doesn't really have any friends, but she gets by--and she has Adam. But what happens when she doesn't have him anymore, and how far will she go to get him back?

From USA Today best selling author, Willow Winters, comes three heart-wrenching, seductive romances all available in this must-read collection. Promise Me: "Promise me you'll love me after this?" Those were the words I asked my first love on a high school date. "Always, Vi," he told me before crushing his lips against mine. I gave him a part of me I can never get back that night. Even worse, I gave him my heart. That was four years ago. Back when I was young and naive. Back when I thought we'd always be together. He dumped me right after graduation and left me to join the military. He said I shouldn't wait for him; it didn't matter that I wanted to. I would have waited for him forever, but he threw me away and left me here in this small town. Now he's home and says he wants me back. Second chances don't work in love. No matter how much I wish I could erase what's happened since he's been gone... no matter how much I think of falling back into his arms... Knocking Boots: We were never meant to be together. He's a bartender with noncommittal tendencies. I'm looking for ... the opposite. Commitment. Period. But drinks and a bet led to something it shouldn't have: a fake relationship. Worse, a first date, a first kiss...

and then more. He's addictive and I can't bring myself to accept the reality. That it's all a lie and I'm fooling myself by thinking he could want more. That I could change him. He's mine for as long as I keep on pretending like this is just for fun. As if I don't want more... Like when he whispers my name, I pretend it doesn't make my heart flip. Like when he holds me at night, I pretend I don't want to lay in his bed every night. It's just a bet; just a lie... until it isn't. Burned Promises: He made me a promise. And then he broke it. That's what happens with your first love. I didn't expect for Derek to fall back into my life and for me to fall back into his bed. Time changes a lot of things, but it doesn't change everything. It doesn't change the way he makes my heart skip or the way my lungs stop when he stares deep into my eyes. It didn't change his bad boy ways either and I should be smart enough to tell him no this time around. I should be, I know what it's like to be burned by him. But it's so hard to walk away when his touch begs me to stay and the pain in his eyes cuts me deeper than anything else in this world.

When she saw him for the first time, it was like putting a face and a voice to a soul she already knew well.
