The renascence of La Kalsa is all the more remarkable, given the extent of the loss, and Palazzo Abatellis constitutes a stunning example of what has been achieved. As part of the restoration, Venetian architect Carlo Scarpa created within the Palazzo's walls the exhibition space that now holds the Galleria Regionale della Sicilia (Gallery of Art for the Sicilian Region).

In Sicilia: Palazzo Abatellis | Prufrock's Dilemma

Carlo Scarpa (Venezia 1906 - Sendai 1978) era abituato a lavorare lentamente con frequenti ripensamenti. Ma quando nel 1953 viene incaricato del recupero di palazzo Abatellis a Palermo, un prestigioso edificio dell'ultimo decennio del Quattrocento, in tempi per lui molto brevi sa fare della Galleria nazionale di Sicilia uno dei più suggestivi musei italiani, approfittando ...

La presente pubblicazione ripropone un testo ormai classico, uscito per la prima volta nel 1984, con una nuova veste grafica. Legato agli ambienti intellettuali veneziani più vivaci, Scarpa trascorse gran parte della sua vita nella città lagunare e da essa trasse fondamentali motivi d'ispirazione. Decisivo, al punto di rappresentare un capitolo autonomo nella storia dell'architettura ...

Palermo's Palazzo Abatellis was bombed during the night in April 1943. The 15th-century building by Matteo Carnelivari was first restored and reinforced, and then in 1953 it was fit out and furnished in order to turn it into an "Art Gallery for Medieval Art Collections". Carlo Scarpa was entrusted with this delicate operation. The Venetian [...]

In Scarpa's view, "to obtain something you must invent relationships," 3 and Palazzo Abatellis is a treasure chest of correspondences, like a piece of poetry. It is no coincidence that the museum has become the subject of a contemporary narrative, an artist's book entitled Palazzo Abatellis Palermo , by Cloe Piccoli and Stefano Graziani.

Carlo Scarpa in Magna Graecia Visitando Palazzo Abatellis Federico De Matteis . Il radicamento di Carlo Scarpa nella cultura architettonica veneziana è fatto difficilmente negabile; pur in presenza di influenze esterne, la costante predilezione per soluzioni costruttive e artigianali evidentemente derivate dalla tradizione della città lacunare tende a dirimere qualsiasi incertezza riguardo ...

This international seminar's fifth edition, dedicated to the theme Desenho (...) Cidade (...) Corpo, Habitando a Terra (Drawing [...] City [...] Body, Inhabiting the Earth) was held as a joint activity between: this C.I.A.U.D./F.A./U.Lisboa Research Project, the University of São Paulo, represented by the Maria Antônia University Centre, and the Faculty of Architecture and Urbanism of the Federal University of Juiz de Fora. Its objectives were threefold: To discuss how Drawing in/of the City and the elements that identify it (geographical area, inhabitants, natural landscape and/or built landscape; present, desired or memorable facts and data) are represented and identified through the presence and/or action of the body, in the form of gestures, movements, interventions, displacements or permanence. To problematise the association between Drawing and City from the starting point of the perception of the Body, assuming this mediation as a condition for the particular construction of that relationship. To identify the presence of the Body in the Representations/Drawings of the City, submitting this event or phenomenon to analysis, aiming for cognitive production. The contributions will be of interest to artists, academics and professionals in the fields of drawing and the arts, architecture, sociology, philosophy, urbanism and design.

Between 1953 and 1978 the Italian architect Carlo Scarpa produced an incredibly varied range of works that challenge our notions of what modern architecture might be. Foremost in that work was the need to reconcile a wholehearted embrace of the new with the longstanding traditions of local craft and of universal practice to create an architecture that would clearly express its own machine-driven times without abandoning the psychic and sensual forces of place, materiality, and memory. Carlo Scarpa, Architect: Intervening with History illustrates, through abundant reproductions of Scarpa's drawings, the ways the architect created a dialogue with light, space, and architecture within the historic fabric of Italian cities. Presenting these projects as they exist today, the patient eye of contemporary photographer Guido Guidi deepens our understanding of this timely approach to architectural dialogue.

There is by now a considerable list of books concerning the work of Carlo Scarpa. Among them, this new critical guidebook, written by Sergio Los, one of the leading scholars of Scarpa's work, certainly stands out as the indispensable travelling companion for those setting out to explore the creations of this remarkable Venetian architect. The introductory essay, which provides a critical analysis of the essential features of Scarpa's approach to "doing" architecture, is followed by a complete catalogue of the buildings and projects that Scarpa actually built, along with the fundamental information required to understand their history, and to tour them as they now stand, as well as an inventory of Scarpa's unbuilt projects. This book is a supremely useful tool for those who wish to learn, "live," from and about the remarkable artistic endeavors and adventures in building of one of the masters of contemporary architecture.

Makers of 20th-Century Modern Architecture is an indispensable reference book for the scholar, student, architect or layman interested in the architects who initiated, developed, or advanced modern architecture. The book is amply illustrated and features the most prominent and influential people in 20th-century modernist architecture including Wright, Eisenman, Mies van der Rohe and Kahn. It describes the milieu in which they practiced their art and directs readers to information on the life and creative activities of these founding architects and their disciples. The profiles of individual architects include critical analysis of their major buildings and projects. Each profile is completed by a comprehensive bibliography.

Palermo has about 3,000 years of history and its roots predate the Punic colonisation of the 8th century BC. Because of its favourable geographical location and its fertile land, the city was preyed upon by a variety of peoples and was conquered, among others, by the Muslims, the Normans, the Aragonese and the Spaniards. From the 16th century onwards a number of hamlets and new agglomerations started to spring up in the country environs. All these have now been absorbed by urbanisation. The countryside was also characterised by the social phenomenon of villeggiatura, which considerably enhanced urbanisation of the countryside from the 17th century to the 1850s. This has given the city and its environs a unique image, outstanding for its blend of different architectural styles and historical strata. This guide, based on a number of historical itineraries, is intended to enable the visitor to discover Palermo and its surroundings through a detailed account of the countless churches, the numerous palazzi and the various street patterns which all testify to the city's development throughout the centuries.
