Draw a grid on a piece of paper—a square filled with smaller squares. The number of squares can vary, depending on the attention span of your child. Down the left side, put some letters of the alphabet (for example, you could spell out a child's name: LISA). Across the top, write categories—for example, girls' names, boys' names, animals, colours, cars, places.***

A fortune teller (also called a cootie catcher, chatterbox, salt cellar, whirlbird, or paku-paku) is a form of origami used in children's games. Parts of the fortune teller are labelled with colors or numbers that serve as options for a player to choose from, and on the inside are eight flaps, each concealing a message.

An automatic online paper grader will NEVER: Assess whether the paper meets the assignment requirements. The most advanced AI can't make sense of your professor's directions, so it won't be able to tell whether you did a good job. And you can forget about meaningful comments on how to make things better.
