Sound bar turns off or goes to sleep while sound is playing If you have an issue with your sound bar going to sleep after a set amount of time, it's likely due to its energy-saving settings. In order to prevent them from consuming unnecessary power when they're not being used, most sound bars power down if they don't detect an audio signal.

How To Fix Your Sound Bar: Common Sound Bar Problems ...

The ilive soundbar has this input. The soundbar has good sound quality, not music system quality but much better than on any tv. The bar can be easily programmed to respond to the volume control and on/off control on your tv or set top box remote. The bar must be in line of site to respond to the control. I put mine on top of the cabinet that holds the tv and it works great. Read more. 4 ...
