In aqueous solution, transition metal cations are usually symbolized as  $M^{n+}(aq)$ , where M is the atomic symbol of the metal ion and n is the charge on the ion. For example,  $Fe^{3+}$  in aqueous solution is written as  $Fe^{3+}(aq)$ . The (aq) symbol indicates that the metal ion is aquated (i.e., the metal ion is bonded to several water molecules).

Many reactions that occur in aqueous solution involve ions. Precipitation is only one way in which ions can be removed from solution.

Precipitation reactions in aqueous solution depend on the fact that one product does not dissolve readily in water. Substances vary considerably in their ability to dissolve in water.
