learning style using the Kolb Learning Style Inventory (KLSI) to assess individual learning styles (Kolb & Kolb 2005b). In the KLSI a person 's learning style is defined by their unique combination of preferences for the four learning modes defining a "kite" shape profile of their relative preference for the four phases of the learning cycle. Because each person's learning style is unique, everyone's kite shape is a little different.

David Kolb published his learning styles model in 1984 from which he developed his learning style inventory. Kolb's experiential learning theory works on two levels: a four-stage cycle of learning and four separate learning styles. Much of Kolb's theory is concerned with the learner's internal cognitive processes.
