América Latina y el Caribe se encuentra en una encrucijada de enorme relevancia para el empoderamiento económico de las mujeres. Tras un período de prosperidad, progreso social y consolidación democrática, muchos países están experimentando una desaceleración económica —y algunos incluso recesión—, polarización social, desconfianza en los gobiernos y, en ciertos casos, crisis políticas. A este contexto se suman además factores externos tales como la caída de los precios de las materias primas, tendencias proteccionistas, incertidumbre respecto de la evolución del flujo de las remesas y posibles modificaciones en las políticas migratorias. En este contexto, poner el empoderamiento económico de las mujeres en el centro de la agenda pública cobra renovada importancia si el objetivo en la región es erigir economías no solo más prósperas y resilientes, sino también más igualitarias. Quienes tienen a su cargo la formulación de políticas públicas enfrentan un doble desafío: proteger las conquistas en materia de igualdad de género frente a la desaceleración económica y continuar superando los persistentes obstáculos que se interponen al empoderamiento económico de las mujeres. Los avances registrados por las mujeres de la región a lo largo de las últimas dos décadas son indiscutibles; pero también son innegables las persistentes brechas no solamente entre mujeres y hombres, sino entre las mujeres mismas. Como muestra este informe, tanto las conquistas como los obstáculos al empoderamiento económico de las mujeres reflejan las profundas desigualdades socioeconómicas características de esta región, las cuales se agudizan con algunas dinámicas familiares y con patrones patriarcales y violentos. Estas desigualdades —a su vez fuertemente influenciadas por las diferencias geográficas y de origen étnico— son obstáculos que deben superarse con el fin de lograr el empoderamiento económico de todas las mujeres.

In accordance with Article 102 of the Charter and the relevant General Assembly Resolutions, every treaty and international agreement registered or filed and recorded with the Secretariat since 1946 is published in the United Nations Treaty Series. At present, the collection includes about 30,000 treaties reproduced in their authentic languages, together with translations into English and French, as necessary. The Treaty Series, where treaties are published in the chronological order of registration, also provides details about their subsequent history (i.e., participation in a treaty, reservations, amendments, termination, etc.). Comprehensive Indices covering 50-volume-lots are published separately. A Standing Order service is available for the Series and out-of-print volumes are available on microfiche.
