Hermann Göring, Erwin Rommel, Manfred von Richthofen, Paul von Hindenburg, Helmuth von Moltke, Ernst Junger, Max Immelmann - they were among the most famous individuals to be awarded the Kingdom of Prussia's highest military order, the Pour le Mérite, better known as the 'Blue Max'. Until the end of the Great War the Blue Max was the most prestigious accolade, a German serviceman could wish for. Yet fictions and myths about the Blue Max have obscured its long and fascinating history. Kevin Brazier, in this comprehensive account of the Pour le Mérite and of the men who received it, aims to set the record straight, and he provides a comprehensive listing of the men who were given this high honor. REVIEWS ...the bedrock of this book is chronological lists of names. WWI aces are listed with their victory totals followed by a section profiling them and their exploits in good depth. A 16pp section features black and white photos of Blue Max recipients, This book should appeal to anyone interested in medals, Prussian and German Military history and most of all Great War Aces. Toy Soldier and Model Figure A

A unique and insightful volume that demonstrates the remarkable role of the elite high-scoring aces played in the development of military aviation. One of the German stars remains the most famous pilot of all time - Manfred von Richthofen, 'The Red Baron' - but the eighty other 'Blue Max' winners are here; full biographies, career details, the aircraft they flew and their contribution to the air war of the First World War. Primary research in Germany, past meetings with four surviving aces and a lifetime of sifting through data and information have enabled Peter Kilduff to make this the most exhaustive and accurate volume on the valor in combat, excellence in military leadership, long and faithful service to the kingdom, or other achievements. As with most German (and most other European) orders, the Order of the Red Eagle could only be awarded to commissioned officers or civilians of approximately equivalent status. However, there was a medal of the order, which could be awarded to non-commissioned officers and enlisted men, lower ranking civil servants and other civilians. The predecessor to Order of the Red Eagle was founded on November 17, 1705, by the Margrave Georg Wilhelm of Brandenburg-Bayreuth as the Ordre de la Sincerite. This soon fell into disuse but was revived in 1712 in Brandenburg-Bayreuth...
