Rory Fleck Byrne and Caroline Wildi. © Darren Bell. This is the second London outing for Polly Stenham ’s impressive 2007 debut That Face. Set in the thoroughly dysfunctional world of an ever more distressed upper middle-class family, where pill-popping and channel-hopping are the methods employed by the parents to deal with the children, we watch as things disintegrate, leading inexorably towards crisis point.

Polly Stenham’s first play: a hard-hitting, intense and visceral dissection of children who become parents to their parents.

Come on troops. Let’s take check: Finn Bar, slightly ruffled but still in fighting form. Maggie, could do with a full night’s sleep but otherwise all in order... Stay here. Don't answer the door. I'll go out and get some proper food. In a new flat, three children play hide and seek. Eliot wears a crown, little Finn, King of the Wild Thing’s, draws on the walls. Maggie climbs them. Hiding from the world, needing to be found, their one shared focus a mobile phone. Will it ring? Who will call? And what are they waiting for? Tusk Tusk is a tale of family loyalty as an uncertain future circles. Polly Stenham’s second play premiered at the Royal Court Theatre, London, in March 2009.

Wild and newly single, Julie throws a late night party. In the kitchen, Jean and Kristina clean up as the celebration heaves above them. Crossing the threshold, Julie initiates a power game with Jean. It descends into a savage fight for survival. Polly Stenham reimagines August Strindberg’s Miss Julie in contemporary London. Julie premiered at the National Theatre, London, in May 2018.

You were brought up on mythology. Hollow mythology. That’s why you’re all stuck, all angry, a prince in the wrong story. A prince with a black eye. Fleeing a world he has rejected, Robin finds solace in his music and the sanctuary of his remote family home. But as his kingdom begins to crumble around him, how far will he go to save it and at what cost? Polly Stenham’s No Quarter premiered at the Royal Court Theatre, London, in January 2013.

In a new flat, three children play hide and seek. Eliot wears a crown, little Finn, King of the Wild Things, draws on the walls. Maggie climbs them. Hiding from the world, needing to be found, their one shared focus a mobile phone. Will it ring? Who will call? And what are they waiting for?

One of the greatest classics of modern theater concerns a willful young aristocrat’s seduction of her father’s valet during a Midsummer’s Eve celebration. Complete with Strindberg’s highly-regarded critical preface.

Maude, a fifty-something unemployed bartender living in a trailer park, has bought a painting for a few bucks from a thrift store. Despite almost trashing it, she’s now convinced it’s a lost masterpiece by Jackson Pollock worth millions. But when world-class art expert Lionel Percy flies over from New York and arrives at her trailer home in Bakersfield to authenticate the painting, he has no idea what he is about to discover. Inspired by true events, this hilarious and thought-provoking new comedy-drama asks vital questions about what makes art and people truly authentic.

A dark family drama from award-winning American playwright and screenwriter Mary Laws. Every family has a dark underbelly, especially the perfect ones. On a regular Sunday morning, Walt sits in his sunny suburban kitchen while wife Barb makes him breakfast. Over a plate of blueberry toast a dispute escalates, and it's not long before the mundane descends into madness. Award-winning US playwright, Mary Laws, exposes the darker side of happily ever after, in this this cutting, absurdly funny, twisted tragedy.

I can't escape it. I can't forget it. And I can't begin again. Bill Maitland, a middle aged lawyer, struggles to avoid the harsh truths of his life. As those closest to him draw away, he puts himself on trial to fight for his sanity. John Osborne’s poignant, witty and compelling portrait of loss, betrayal and defeat releases the author’s characteristic display of soaring rhetorical venom to powerful effect. First performed at the Royal Court Theatre in 1964, Inadmissible Evidence received a major revival at the Donmar Warehouse, London, in October 2011. ‘This is a work of stunning and intemperate power, a great bellow of rage and pain... there is a self-lacerating honesty about his writing that few other playwrights have come close to matching.’ Daily Telegraph
