Rowan has lived with his father and his brother in the hills of the Corrinthian Valley for almost seventeen years. He knows that his family's farm holds only chores and plants and predictability. He can envision exactly how his life will play out. Every day. Every season. When the apples will fall and when the frost will come. Always the same, year after year. It is not the life for him. So when a storm brings with it a strange visitor, a knight named Baird, Rowan seizes the opportunity and leaves his home behind. He travels with Baird to the capitol city of Estoria, but the life he finds there is filled with difficult choices and responsibilities. A threat is looming, and the capitol and the royal family may be in need of Baird and Rowan now more than ever.

Christopher Stewart and Armand de Bleu are students in the most exclusive all-male school in the world. They are also serving as apprentices to two of the members of the Ruling Council of Twelve for the Order of the Red Cross of Gold. Christopher is completely devoted to his Master, Sir Ramsay, whereas Armand is much more loyal to the Order than his Master, Sir Argonne, who is cruel and heartless, but both apprentices are devoted to each other as friends and Brothers of the Order. Their world is turned up-side down when Christopher's Master is sent to the United States on an assassins mission that goes wildly astray. When Christopher learns that his Master's life is in danger, he enlists Armand to help him go AWOL to help Sir Ramsay. While this is happening, some of the other students are getting into trouble with one of the less scrupulous, older apprentices who has an agenda not quite in line with the Order's traditions and expectations. Their boyish antics land them in a world of trouble, which could result in serious repercussions for all. Armand and Christopher are soon found in violation of the Rules of Order, and both are punished, but sometimes punishment is a true learning experience. At any rate, neither of them will ever be the same. (The Apprentice Diaries is a collaboration between Brendan Carroll, author of the Assassin Chronicles and D'Lani Elliott, teacher, mom and editor.)

On the surface, this book is the story of the author's sixty year journey that takes him from the Midwest to Arizona and, finally, to Virginia. An Earthly Journey tells of those who impacted him on his journey. The surface story, though important, is only one piece of the puzzle. The story is also about a dog and higher-dimensional entities, a very special piece of land, and a remarkable woman. It is a love story that began long ago, existing in many lifetimes. It is James's story, and it is Angelica's story, and the book could not exist without both of them. This book is a doorway, a glimpse into a reality which is contrary to third-dimensional conditioning, an example of the possible. It is an invitation for readers to understand their own journeys, to put together all the random events of their lives and find the connections. Ultimately, the book is what you discover it to be, and hopefully-what it ignites within you.

Chasing the Skandian slave-traders who kidnapped Will and Evanlyn, Ranger Halt and warrior student Horace find themselves in the frozen northern islands, where they battle a ruthless black-clad knight as they attempt to rescue their friends.

Courage, Danger, Valor.....all await in Steampunk's special forces. The Knights of the Crystal Spire are Rislandia's most elite fighters. Trained from a young age, they alone can face the deadliest enemies of their kingdom and beyond. James Gentry joins the Knights' ranks, starting as an apprentice on his journey from a simple farmer's life to the way of the warrior. He must face spies and traitors, soldiers and assassins, and doing so under the watchful eye of a beautiful princess. Does he have what it takes? Fans of strong men relying on the camaraderie of a band of brothers will love The Steam Knight. Read today!

An ancient evil haunts the land, and old enemies have returned to kill Lannon Sunshield and destroy Dremlock Kingdom. The long winter is coming to an end, but the icy, bitter touch of the Deep Shadow has grown even colder. With a prolific assassin on the loose, no one can be trusted. Meanwhile, the shadow of an expanding kingdom at last reaches Silverland, promising war. Journey through time once again starting in romantic Tuscany where Abby Stevens finds more than she was expecting in Bella Italia. Destiny Lends a Hand in medieval Austria where a nobleman must choose between status and love. Next, in Love and Murder, a governess must save her employer from himself when he searches out his wife's killer. Then in Lofty Expectations, Eric Murray must choose between the dream job and love. In Indian Summer, a daughter returns to British India where she meets the father she never knew. While in For All Time, warring clans are the order of the day in 1600s, Scotland. We end our journey in 1920s, New York, where an orphan girl must keep her past a secret during an era where social status is everything.

G. K. Chesterton, London and Modernity is the first book to explore the persistent theme of the city in Chesterton's writing. Situating him in relation to both Victorian and Modernist literary paradigms, the book explores a range of theoretical and methodological approaches to address the way his imaginative investments and political interventions conceive urban modernity and the central figure of London. While Chesterton's work has often been valued for its wit and whimsy, this book argues that he is also a distinctive urban commentator, whose sophistication has been underappreciated in comparison to more canonical contemporaries. With chapters written by leading scholars in the field of 20th-century literature, the book also provides fresh readings and suggests new contexts for central texts such as The Man Who Was Thursday, The Napoleon of Notting Hill and the Father Brown stories. It also discusses lesser-known works, such as Manalive and The Club of Queer Trades, drawing out their significance for scholars interested in urban representation and practice in the first three decades of the 20th century.
