2 THE ART OF LOVING making oneself attractive, used both by men and women, are to develop pleasant manners, interesting conversation, to be helpful, modest, inoffensive. Many of the ways to make oneself lovable are the same as those used to make oneself successful, "to win friends and influence people."

Fromm questions if love is an art, in which case it requires knowledge and effort. Or, instead is it a warm fuzzy feeling that, with luck, might bring happiness? His book is based on the former premise and he begins to outline how love has been misunderstood, then covers three main errors our culture employs when assessing love.
