The Bear had no idea that he was in the middle of a factory. “ Get back to work! ” a man yelled out of the blue. “ I don ’ t work here, ” said the Bear, “ I ’ m a bear. ” The man laughed and laughed. “ Fine excuse for a man to keep from doing any work—saying he ’ s a bear. ” And so it began and so it went, with the Bear protesting his beariness all the way from the Third Vice President to the First, and no one willing to believe that he wasn ’ t just a silly man in a fur coat who needed a shave. who himself seems to always be in the wrong place at the wrong time, or Cow, or perhaps even the author herself? One thing's for sure--it probably won't be Duck. Duck doesn't seem concerned that Bear is missing. In fact, he seems to be trying to steal the show for himself! Duck would much prefer that the reader pick up his own book, The Duck Who Showed Up.
