examines the development, structure and role of education from the third century B.C to the time of Trajan, a period which saw great changes in Roman society. When originally published it was the first

File Type PDF World Teachers

complete review
of the subject for half a century and was based on a new collection and analysis of ancient source material. The book is divided into three parts. The first provides historical background,

showing the effects upon the educational system of Rome's transition from a predominantly agricultural community to a
great
metropolis; it
traces the development of

schools, and discusses
standards both
in early Rome
and under the Empire, when advanced
teaching was more widely available, but often adversely

affected by weakening social values and
diminished
parental control. The volume goes on to describe the physical conditions of teaching -
accommodation,
equipment,
discipline, the economic position of teachers and the fee-paying system, and the part played by the State.

Finally, he gives a full appraisal of the standard teaching programme, from the elementary study of the three Rs, to the theory and practice of rhetoric, in which the needs

of the future
advocate were constantly borne
in mind.
